EDMUNDS' DAY.

DEMOCRATS OF THE SIXTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT.

THE FARMER CONGRESSMAN SAFE.

Delegates First Assembling. Order of the Convention. The Ladies Invited to Hear Judge Crisp Speak-Notes Before the Convention.

Promptly at noon to-day the convention to nominate a Democratic candidate in the sixth district will convene at the Opera House.

Already the delegates are arriving in the city, and last night the hotels were crowded with them; but the great majority will get here on this morning's trains. Altogether there will be quite two hundred and fifty men in the city from the counties and cities making up the district.

Hon. Paul C. Edmunds, the only candidate and the present incumbent, arrived on the afternoon train with his son, and registered at the Hotel Roanoke. He brought with him a large number of the Halifax delegation, and most of them found quarters at the Hotel Felix. His son, the junior, stopped there, and proved himself to be almost as popular as his father.

The evening train also brought Major P. A. Kise, the chairman of the sixth district committee, from Lynchburg, and in the evening there was a meeting of the committee in the reading room of the Hotel Roanoke to make arrangements to perform a temporary organization. The meeting was in session but a few hours, and the programme of the convention was soon arranged.

This morning at 10 o'clock every delegation will hold a separate meeting for the purpose of electing members of the committee on credentials, the committee on permanent organization and the committee on resolutions. It is then expected that the delegates will appoint three members to each of these committees, but the chairman thinks that it is best to have only one in future. This makes the committees less clumsy, and they are able to do their work more quickly.

As soon as the work of the committees is completed the convention will be called to order and a temporary organization will be made by the election of a chairman and secretary. It is then expected that the delegates will elect a chairman and secretary, and a large number of the delegates will be elected to the various committees.

Mr. Edmunds will be the only candidate in the sixth district. He is a prominent member of the place and there is no other candidate in the field.

As soon as the temporary organization is perfected nominations will be in order. Then the balloting will begin. It is expected that Mr. Edmunds will be nominated on the first ballot and unanimously. There is no other candidate, and all of the county conventions that elected delegates endorsed his course in Congress. Mr. Edmunds will doubtless address the convention after he has been nominated, and those who have heard him speak may expect a rare treat.

After the business of the convention has been completed a recess will be taken for dinner. When the convention reassembles the doors will be thrown open to the fair sex, which will grace the occasion in numbers. Judge Crisp, the representative of the Third district of Georgia, will then address the convention on the issues of the day.

Mr. Crisp is one of the leaders of the Democratic party in the House. He has a national reputation as an orator and statesman, and his ideas on the various measures now before the country will be attentively listened to. He is an Englishman by birth, but he is an American to the core. His record in the army and in the halls of Congress is something to be proud of. Besides serving four terms in the House, he has been a long time known as one of the most promising statesmen in the country, and a constitutional lawyer of national reputation.

NOTES BEFORE THE CONVENTION.
A large number of prominent Democrats came in yesterday afternoon to attend the meeting of the convention. Henry Edmunds, a brother of the Congressman, was the first to arrive. He looks very much like the Congressman, and is well known all through the district.

William A. Glasgow, Jr., a son of ex-Senator Glasgow, was also at the Roanoke. He was raised in that section near the city, and years ago shot ducks where he is now a prominent member of the city. The town of Glasgow, on the Shenandoah Valley, was named for one branch of the family. He is a smooth faced and intellectual man and likes to smoke a briar-wood pipe.

Honorable R. R. Noblin, of Halifax, the present representative of Halifax county in the legislature, arrived last night. He wears a black mustache and spectacles and thinks that his native county will give a bigger majority than ever before. The Force bill he thinks will make the South more Democratic than ever.

Honorable Lewis Arthur, of Bedford, is in the senate from that county, and last night he met his old friend, Judge Williams' for the first time in quite a while. They spent the evening in exchanging reminiscences in the Hotel Felix corridors. Mr. Arthur is a farmer and he thinks that Edmunds will have a walkover.

Judge R. H. Ward, judge of the County Court, also arrived on the afternoon train. He is a delegate from Charlotte, and comes from near the place where John Randolph, of Roanoke, once lived. The old house where the distinguished statesman once lived is now in ruins.

Major P. A. Kise, the chairman of the sixth district committee, has held that position for nearly twenty years. He is a tall gentleman with a black beard, and thinks that the progress made by Roanoke during the past few years has been something phenomenal. He is president of the Kise Banking Company, of Lynchburg, and has large interests throughout the Southwest.

The following Halifax delegates are quartered at the Hotel Felix: Hon. J. D. Hanks, J. C. Cam, W. T. Atson, J. H. Jordan, H. J. Watkins, W. H. Sneed, J. H. Roberts, H. B. Burgess, R. R. Shiver, Col. L. C. May, J. C. Morgan, M. J. Twillar.

OFFICERS FOR THE YEAR ELECTED.

Dr. W. E. Morris, of Charlottesville, Elected President - Three Sessions Yesterday - Review of the Proceedings - Clinics for Today.

It was 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning before the dentist's convention was called to order by President Knut. The hour of meeting had been set for thirty minutes earlier, but the members did not appear.

The reading of the minutes was dispensed with and the convention commenced balloting for officers for the next year. The following is the result of the election:

President, Dr. W. E. Morris, Charlottesville, Va.; first vice president, Dr. D. D. Luster, Christiansburg, Va.; second vice president, Dr. W. D. Wood, Suffolk, Va.; third vice president, Dr. J. O. Hodgkin, Warrenton, Va.; corresponding secretary, Dr. J. H. Moore of Richmond; recording secretary, Dr. Geo. F. Keese, Richmond; treasurer, Dr. J. F. Thompson, of Fredericksburg. Executive committee: J. R. Woodley, T. Parramore and W. H. Gingrich.

President Morris is well known in the State as an earnest, painstaking dentist, devoted to his profession and popular with everyone who knows him. In the re-election of Dr. Keese as recording secretary, the association retains a good man and one who has always served the best interests of the association.

Drs. Morris, Johnston, Lester, and Mercer were unanimously recommended to the Governor for appointment on the board of examiners. Old Point Comfort will be next place for the meeting of the association, the date to be arranged for by the executive committee.

Dr. Whitford spoke at length on the merits of the Dentists' Protective Association and urged all the members present to join it.

Dr. Lester's paper on "Pyorrhea Alveolar" was again taken up, and a number of members gave their views on the subject.

Dr. T. W. Crozier then introduced Dr. Phipps, who made a few remarks appropriate to the occasion. Dr. Phipps, formerly of Danville, is now living in New Zealand, sent a letter regretting that he could not be present. The secretary was instructed to write and send him the best wishes of the convention for his success in his new field.

AFTERNOON SESSION.
During the afternoon, from three o'clock until six, the members of the association discussed the paper on "Operative Dentistry." Among the speakers were Drs. Hodgkin, Thacker, Liston and Crockett. During the discussion a forecast brought over in the Mayflower was exhibited.

The committee on the president's address reported. Their report was adopted without alteration.

Dr. Cokerill, a well-known dentist of Washington, addressed the meeting on the status of dental colleges and also made some pertinent remarks on operative dentistry.

The meeting then adjourned to meet this evening at 8 o'clock.

EVENING SESSION.
At the evening session an interesting paper on "Prosthetic Dentistry" was read by Dr. W. H. H. Thackston, of Farmington, Conn. The paper was read at length and highly approved by the association.

A vote of thanks was tendered J. W. Selby, of Philadelphia, for the exhibit of dental material.

The association will meet this morning at Dr. Wood's office to attend clinics, by Drs. Gingrich, of Norfolk, and Lester, of Christiansburg. Dr. Cokerill, of Washington, was invited to give a clinic on the association will be held in the first ward school building.

Struck Oil Near Greensboro.
GREENSBORO, N. C., August 27.—Oil has been struck on a small farm owned by J. J. Phoenix about a mile from town. Mr. Phoenix began sinking the shaft last week, but kept the matter a profound secret until he secured options on adjoining lands. The shaft has reached a depth of thirty feet. The mud and water drawn from it are full of oil. Oilmen have visited the shaft and pronounce the oil "white sand" and say it is the most valuable oil, and say it is the most abundant of an abundant kind.

LABOR DAY.

The Way the Workers of Roanoke Intend to Celebrate.

Next Monday, September 1st, is Labor Day, and the labor organizations of Roanoke will inaugurate "Labor Day" in Southwest Virginia, with a grand demonstration.

The celebration will be under the auspices of the Roanoke branch of the American Federation of Labor. This organization is made up of the various orders of workmen, and twelve or fifteen hundred men will participate in the parade. Organizations of iron molders, carpenters, mill men, the amalgamated association of iron and steel workers, printers, tailors, bricklayers, boiler makers, and machinists, will be represented. The fire companies of the city have accepted the invitation to participate in the parade.

The procession will form on Campbell and Jefferson streets and Salem Avenue, and will move in three divisions about 9 o'clock in the morning. The line of march has not yet been determined upon. In addition to the parade there will be a picnic in Carr's Grove between the city and the city on the Vinton dummy line. The programme has not yet been arranged in detail, but general outlines of the plans for the occasion insure fun and entertainment for everybody.

A large dancing pavilion has been erected, and music will be furnished by the Machine Works Band.

Prominent members of the American Federation of Labor from New York city are expected to be present and deliver addresses to the workers.

The iron workers and printers will play a game of base ball on the base ball grounds adjoining the grove. A prize of $100 will be awarded the organization to which the successful team belongs.

There will be other sports, as greased pig chase, three-legged race, sack races and foot races, for which prizes will be awarded. There will be quartette singing by members of the association, and James Rider will deliver a number of comic stump speeches. Baskets will be taken along, and an elegant lunch will be served. The federation will meet tonight at their hall on the corner of Third and Commonwealth avenues to arrange the programme of the occasion in detail. By that time the managers hope to be able to announce the names of their speakers. A circular was being circulated yesterday among the employees of the Machine Works asking that the works shut down Monday.

A REAL ESTATE CONVENTION.
The Proposition Set Afloat by the Norfolk Real Estate Exchange.
The following letter has been received by several Roanoke real estate men:

REAL ESTATE EXCHANGE.
NORFOLK, Va., August, 1890.
Dear Sir:—It is proposed to have a convention of all the real estate agents in the State of Virginia, with invitation to representative agents in other States to be held in this city in the month of November or December.

The object in view is to advance the interest of our business, to formulate a plan for properly advertising, to foster better relations and more intimate relations with each other. Please give us your views as to the practicability of this proposition.

Yours truly,
WALTER SHARP,
Chairman Real Estate Committee on Convention.

The Virginia Debt.
NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—The Virginia debt committee announce that they have now on deposit a large majority of all classes of securities. Holders of obligations of the State of Virginia, to avail themselves of the benefits to be derived therefrom, are requested to deposit the same on or before September 15, 1890. After the said date the committee will only receive additional securities upon such terms as may then be advised. Immediate application will be made to the New York Stock Exchange to list the trust certificates for "consolidated" and "ten-forty" bonds.

A LEGISLATIVE ROW.
Beckwith, of New Jersey, Strikes Wilson, of Washington.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—In the House today filibustering against the lard bill was continued and nothing accomplished. There was an exciting scene in the afternoon occasioned by a remark made by Cannon, of Illinois, which was interpreted by many members as vulgar. In the heated personal controversy which followed, Beckwith, of New Jersey, struck Wilson, of Washington. When quiet was restored Mr. Cannon disclaimed the vulgar construction put upon his remark.

In the Senate Mr. Plumb's resolution to prohibit the sale of liquor in the Senate wing of the Capitol was discussed and referred to the committee on rules. The tariff bill was then taken up, and some progress in the wood schedule of the bill was made.

Ships With a Lot of Money.
NORFOLK, Aug. 27.—E. C. Hanway, agent here for the National Capital Savings, Building and Loan Society of America, has disappeared with a large amount of money. He had been here but a month, yet he has victimized people right and left. Bogus checks and crooked transactions mark his whole career.

An English Tobacco Syndicate.
NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—An English syndicate is trying to obtain control of the tobacco warehouses of Louisville and Cincinnati. It will be called the Western Tobacco Warehouse Trust. Warehouse men of Clarksville, Tenn., will join.

James Copehart Nominated.
POINT PLEASANT, W. VA., Aug. 27.—The Fourth District Democratic Convention, with 300 delegates present, nominated James Copehart, of Mason, for Congress. Congressman Jackson declined to make the run. Copehart is a Farmers' Alliance man.

EVERY new instrument sold by the Hobbie Music Co., Lynchburg, Va., is warranted for five years. They are agents for the world-renowned Knabe Pianos and the Estey Organs; also Kranch & Bach and New England Pianos, which are first-class goods. Illustrated catalogues mailed free upon application.

BOLD BURGLARS

RANSACK THE HOUSE OF MRS. SUSAN CARR.

A REMARKABLE PIECE OF WORK.

One of the most daring burglaries in the history of this section was committed in Roanoke Tuesday night. The house of Mrs. Susan H. Carr, widow of the late Mayor William Carr, was entered and ransacked. Seventy-five dollars in money, a silver watch and gold chain, a silver spoon, and two pearl-handled revolvers were taken.

The house burglarized is No. 419 Third street, northeast, on the corner of Third street and an alley which runs across from Second street. It is in a moderately thickly populated community, and there is a house on each side.

Mrs. Carr was away from home. Her three daughters and son, and Mr. James Breckenridge, a young man who boards there, were the occupants of the house. Yesterday morning when they arose they found that the house had been pillaged. Tables and chairs were overturned, and articles of clothing and papers were scattered promiscuously. Every room except the one occupied by the young ladies was entered and plundered.

The burglars, for evidently the work was not done by one man, entered through a window in the dining room. This room was in the rear part of the building, and a panel of the window blind was broken
